About PTFS Europe

Company Overview

PTFS Europe is the UK's leading supplier of open source solutions for libraries.

Open source is important as it does not restrict future integrations, has a vast user support group and the pace of development is rapid - ensuring your service keeps pace with new needs.

Our Services

We offer the top standards of secure hosting, implementation, customization, training, and excellent support for all our software solutions.

Our goal is to empower librarians with user-friendly, reliable, and cost-effective tools to enhance library services and improve user experience.

Customer Success

Our solutions have been successfully implemented across all sectors of libraries across the UK and Europe. With over 300 customers and within that approaching 1000 libraries! Our satisfied customers have experienced improved workflows, healthier budgets, enhanced discovery capabilities, and increased user engagement.

About Koha Open Source

Powerful Library Management

Koha is a full-featured open source library management system that provides comprehensive functionality for cataloguing, circulation, acquisitions, and more. It is highly customizable and adaptable to fit the unique needs of each library.

User-friendly Interface

Koha offers an intuitive and modern web-based interface that makes it easy for librarians and patrons to navigate and access library resources. Its responsive design ensures a seamless experience across different devices. It is built with integrations in mind.

Community Collaboration

Koha is built and maintained by a global community of librarians, developers, and support providers who work together to continuously improve and enhance the system. This collaborative approach ensures regular updates and access to new features. PTFS Europe boasts some of the most active Koha developers in the world and 2023 we took charge of the latest version of Koha - adding new functionality and even a whole new eRM module!
